

AN ITCHING ERUPTION

"My baby boy was about nine months old when he had a breaking out on his neck which was very annoying. It used to make him very fretful and cross because it seemed to worry him so much. I had my doctor look at the baby and he told me it was eczema and he wanted to treat it. But a friend of mine told me she knew it could be cured cheaper and in much less time. So I started using the Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment, which I soon found out was what I ought to have had before, for the eczema seemed to itch so the baby could not keep his head still and he was rubbing and twisting all the time. I used the Cuticura Remedies three times the first day and began to notice the good it was doing, for he began to get rest from rubbing his neck. So I used three cakes of Cuticura Soap and two boxes of Cuticura Ointment and now no one could tell that he ever had any kind of breaking out, and since then I have never been without Cuticura Soap nor Cuticura Ointment. ## Cost of Beauty.

How New York Dames Keep Young.
Recently a young New York actress woman received a monthly bill from a downtown beauty parlor. This particular bill amounted to fifty-two dollars for the month, which was, perhaps, a little lower than the average monthly accounts rendered by this shop. It contained such items as Turkish Balm, $3.00; Teint Water, $1.75; Facial Massage, $15.00. The attendance at these exclusive "beauty parlors" frequently make as much as ten dollars a day in tips. Occasionally some "grand-dame" in sable ermine and a perfume two dollar bill from her gold bag and issue it to Nancy with an air of lofty grace. One of these attendants confided to a friend in an unguarded moment that among the many lotions and beauty remedies used in such establishments, a preparation for restoring gray hair was most in demand. It is usually charged on the bill at five dollars a bottle under a fancy name, but in reality is the same formula as HAY'S HAIR RESTORE, which retails at all druggists for 50 cents and a dollar per bottle, and is manufactured by PHILIP HAY SPECIALTIES CO., Newark, N. J. U. S. A. HAY'S HAIR RESTORE has many imitations, but those who have used different preparations agree that HAY'S HAIR RESTORE is the most effective and safe.

Oyster Inspector for Connecticut

Sent by Department of Agriculture to Instruct Oyster Men Regarding Shipment of Oysters, So as to Comply with the Pure Food Law.

(Special to The Bulletin.)

Washington, Jan. 20.—At the urgent request of Representative Hill, the department of agriculture will send an inspector to Connecticut, with orders to visit all oyster men of the state, and to instruct them how to comply with the pure food law regarding the shipment of oysters. Mr. Hill recently has received complaints from shippers of oysters that an inspector, who has visited several Connecticut plants, refused to give any information to the shippers as to what is and what is not a violation of the law regarding oysters.

Floating Oysters in Norwalk River.

One case in particular came to Mr. Hill's notice from his district. An inspector visited Norwalk lately. He found that the Norwalk oyster men were in the habit of floating oysters in the Norwalk river, which, according to the rulings of the department, is a violation of law. Instead of notifying the oyster men, who were willing to comply with all the requirements of the department, that they were acting contrary to law, the inspector allowed one man to ship twenty barrels of oysters to Chicago, but before they were shipped the inspector marked them with the letters U. S. He then notified the department here that these oysters were not of the proper standard, and the department instructed the authorities in Chicago, the place of destination, to seize the oysters and begin criminal proceedings against the shipper.

Case Placed Before Secretary Wilson.

Mr. Hill at once had an interview with Secretary Wilson and placed the case before him. Mr. Hill did not object to the regulations as to floating oysters, but he did object to the action of the inspector and Secretary Wilson agreed with Mr. Hill. The result was that orders were given to stop all proceedings against the oyster men, but the oysters which were condemned, and this could not be waived.

To Avoid Future Complications.

To avoid future complications of a similar nature, Secretary Wilson gave orders to have an expert sent from here to Connecticut, and this man will visit every oyster establishment along the Connecticut coast and will instruct the oystermen what they can and what they cannot do under the law. Mr. Hill insists that the man ought to be sent who would not try to get evidence to convict the shippers of violations, but one who would use sound judgment, and to this Secretary Wilson agreed.

Pure Food Act Violation.

The principal violation of the department's regulations in Connecticut pertains to the floating of oysters. It is unlawful to float them in any way, but that is not of the same consistency as to salt and temperature as the water from which the oysters were obtained. It frequently happens, however, that the oysters are floated in rivers into which sewage is emptied, and this is also a violation of the pure food act. There is no objection to the water in which they float, as it is claimed this in no way affects them. When, however, they are left floating they open and absorb some of the water in which they float, and if this water is different from that in which the oysters live, it ruins them and according to the department they are unfit for food.

Liable to Prosecution.

Any oyster man who is violating the law is liable to criminal prosecution, but the department will hereafter refuse to prosecute in any case where it is found that the inspector neglected to point out any specific violation that came to his notice before shipment. After the inspector has visited all the Connecticut oyster men and given them the necessary instructions to comply with the law, the department will be more strict in the enforcement of their regulations, and there will be no excuse on the part of the Connecticut oyster men that they are unfamiliar with the requirements of the department. Secretary Wilson would not disclose the name of the man to be sent, but it is understood he will leave for Connecticut in a few days.

DECAPITATED BODY OF WOMAN FOUND

In a Notorious Resort in Chicago—Police Make Six Arrests.

Chicago, Jan. 20.—One of the most atrocious murders in the police history of Chicago was unearthed today when the decapitated and revoltingly mutilated body of Anna Furlong, also known as Jennie Coghlan, 24 years old, was found in a room on West Seventeenth street. Little is known of the murdered woman, except that she came here from St. Louis seven months ago and that she was married, but living apart from her husband. She had been an inmate of the resort several weeks.

The head was evidently carried away by the murderer in an attempt to conceal the identity of the victim.

A long knife was found concealed beneath the mattress. An open trunk showed that perhaps the murderer had made an attempt to conceal the body. A basin of water and a newspaper stained with blood were also in the room.

The police have six persons in custody, and it is said more arrests will soon be made. Those under arrest are Willie Taylor, proprietor of the resort; Lilly Dale, and Lottie Wilson, said to be inmates; William Anderson, a negro hanger on; Thomas Gilden, a porter in the resort; and John Edwards, a half-breed Indian.

The Dale woman admitted that she and the murdered woman quarrelled yesterday and that she struck the Furlong woman.

STOCK EXCHANGE BROKERS
FORCED TO SUSPEND.

Result of Collapse of Hocking Coal and Iron Company.

New York, Jan. 20.—Roberts, Hall & Criss of New York and Cincinnati, were forced to suspend as members of the New York stock exchange today, consequent upon the two failures yesterday brought about by the collapse of the Columbus and Hocking Coal and Iron company pool. Hugh F. Criss was the board member of the firm and had charge of the Hocking pool on the exchange. He estimates the liabilities of the firm at $3,000,000, but is quoted as saying that he hopes to pay "100 cents on the dollar unless the governors of the exchange permit winking on the part of other members with whom he had contracts."

In announcing the failure of Roberts, Hall & Criss, the president of the exchange said that peculiar circumstances were involved which call for rigid investigation. These circumstances, as Criss' declarations indicate, imply bad faith by other members of the so-called pool. A petition to remove the stock of the Columbus and Hocking Coal and Iron company from the list of the stock exchange is said to be under consideration.

ASSASSINATION REVEALED IN AN OBSCURE FLAT.

Horrible Crime Discovered in Heart of New York's East Side—Another Black Hand Case?

New York, Jan. 20.—Triple murder was revealed in an obscure flat in the heart of New York's East Side at dusk today. Two women and a man were the victims, and the manner of death was horrible. Gagged with silk handkerchiefs and with their heads crushed with a hammer or an axe, they were left bleeding on the floor with a whimpering bull terrier as companion for the dead. Robbery was the motive, or else it is another case of the Black Hand.

Salvatore Scalapone, a well-to-do young Italian barber, his wife and a middle aged woman, believed to have been Mrs. Scalapone's mother, were the unfortunate victims. His failure to appear at his shop today started an investigation which resulted in the discovery of the crime. Police men, summoned by the janitor of the tenement which at Nos. 10 and 12 Montgomery street, entered the lock flat by way of a fire escape.

In the kitchen, which is the first room off the fire escape, Scalapone's body was found. It was tied to the door with the face battered beyond recognition, and lying in a great smear of blood. Near his master stood the bulldog, cowering and blood-spattered. The animal had paced aimlessly from body to body, sniffing one and then the other, staining the floors crimson with his footprints and waiting for human aid.

In the next room were the corpses of the women, gagged as was the man, the handkerchiefs being similarly knotted and the heads battered as if the same instrument was used on all three. But no implement with which such wounds could have been inflicted was found in the flat.

Inspection by the officers revealed a dark confusion; drawers were open, cupboards ransacked, mattresses ripped open and every conceivable hiding place for money or valuables was pried open. In a little hallway last traces of the murders were found. There, concealed under a potato sack, was a basin half filled with bloody water, a bloodstained vest and a pair of overalls, also blood spattered. The water had apparently been crimsoned as the slayer washed his hands before the murders. The blood on the apartment and making his escape by the fire escape.

Whoever took the three lives worked quietly, else next door neighbors are confused in their statements. Mrs. Rebecca Rosenblum, whose flat is separated from the Scalapone's by the sheerest partition, says she heard nothing unusual late last night. It was then that the crime was committed, for Scalapone worked as usual in his shop until Joseph, Scalapone's assistant barber, alarmed at the failure of his employer to appear for work today, gave the first alarm. He then found the flat locked and summoned the janitor. The two tried the door, but with no avail. Then the police were called. ## Woman Suffrage in Oklahoma.

Apparently, it will soon be time to cut another notch in the stock of representation another state which has adopted woman suffrage. The women of Oklahoma have now filed with the secretary of state a petition signed by 35,000 names demanding that an amendment to the state constitution be submitted to the voters of Oklahoma at the next election. The petition is signed by voters. It is so happens that such a referendum is in Oklahoma, mandatory upon the proposition of woman suffrage, backed by Senator Owen and the 35,000 signatories, can secure at the next election a majority of the votes cast upon the proposition.

It is not so strange that the women are not confident of success. It is true that they were defeated at the time of the adoption of the state constitution, but the argument which defeated them has much less weight today. At that time the voters were told that "they"—meaning the powers at Washington—regarded woman suffrage as a highly irregular form of franchise, and that it might seriously jeopardize the newly acquired statehood. Some years before the

Orrine Does Cure
DRUNKENNESS

This is a positive fact known to tens of thousands of wives and mothers of this land. They know Orrine is a reliable remedy for the cure of drunkenness, because it has restored their loved ones to lives of sobriety and usefulness. Every one of these women bought Orrine with full confidence that it would effect a cure or their money would be refunded to them if it failed. This guarantee is in each box. No other remedy for the cure of drunkenness is sold with this liberal guarantee, but Orrine has been so uniformly successful that the makers want the buyers to know that they have full protection if it should fail in any instance. We never publish letters of patients, but recently this letter came to us from Dr. Nolte, Eighth and Race streets, Philadelphia, Pa. Read it and you will readily appreciate why Orrine is so well thought of.

I have had a remarkable case of inebriety under my personal observation. The patient drank heavily for many years and reached a degraded condition, which caused the breaking up of his family and separation from his wife. Every hope was given up of ever saving the man from his strong desire for drink, and only a mother's interest finally persuaded him to voluntarily take treatment for his diseased condition. It was my pleasure to recommend Orrine, your liquor habit cure, and the treatment was taken faithfully. This was two years ago, and the patient is now in a healthy condition and still abstains from the use of stimulants. I have sold Orrine for a number of years and have always found it to be satisfactory. I believe you have a very conditionally good treatment for this disease.

Orrine is prepared in two forms. No. 1, a powder, absolutely tasteless and odorless, given secretly in food or drink. Orrine No. 2, in pill form, is for those who wish to cure themselves. Orrine costs only $1 a box. The guarantee is in each box. Write for Free Orrine Booklet (mailed in plain sealed envelope) to Orrine Co., 547 Orrine Building, Washington, D. C. Orrine is for sale in this city by N. D. Sevin & Son, 115 Main Street.

They know Orrine is a reliable and efficacious remedy for drunkenness and they will not offer you a substitute.

Arizona legislature adopted woman suffrage, only to have it voted by the territorial governor, who, presumably, represented the Washington point of view.—Chicago Post.

A Hard Rap.

The Boston Globe gives a hard rap to the judge who sentenced James Fullman of Belleville, Ill., to imprisonment for life for killing his child. The reasons for the crime was the father's inability to find a home for the infant. In passing sentence in the case the judge is quoted as saying: "To be haunted day after day by the cries of his murdered child will be a punishment more terrible than any that can be inflicted by the courts." "The purpose of the judge," says the Globe, "is hardly less barbarous than the crime of the prisoner, horrible as it is. We should be past the stage of imprisonment considered as anything else than a protection to those who are disposed to do right." Punishment inflicted by courts is not based on the principle of an eye for an eye, but rather as a deterrent against the further commission of crime, thereby protecting society. The Belleville judge apparently only had the prisoner in mind and laid it all on to him.
